

Addison Group keeps $1B retailer on track during SAP S/4HANA implementation

Success story
Finance &
Accounting

A billion dollar retailer going through an SAP S/4HANA implementation needed highly skilled accounting professionals to help stay on track.

Challenge

Our client was implementing a complex system, SAP S/4HANA. The implementation process comes with significant risks for accounting teams if additional support isn't in place.

For our client, a $1+ billion retailer, the stakes were high: delayed or inaccurate financial reporting, backlogged reconciliations, and staff burnout due to overtime were real possibilities they could not risk.

Solutions

Over a duration of 24 months, the Addison Group team ensured the client's month-end close processes stayed on track while their permanent team members focused on the S/4HANA implementation.

Our highly skilled accounting professionals acted as a critical stopgap, taking on essential responsibilities, including managing month-end close activities, completing complex reconciliations, and ensuring accurate and timely financial reporting.

In addition to staff augmentation, we also placed a functional consultant to design, map out, and implement their inventory module. This addition streamlined their processes, ensured system alignment with operational needs, and allowed the client to maximize the value of their Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) investment.
