

World-renowned healthcare organization tasks Addison Group to steer through Workday Financials implementation

Success story
Finance &
Accounting

A world-renowned healthcare organization needed expert support while they navigated through their Workday Financials implementation.

Challenge

Implementing Workday Financials in a fast-paced and complex environment like healthcare is no small feat—especially for critical functions like Accounts Payable (AP). In an industry where vendor relationships, compliance, and payment accuracy directly impact operations, ensuring AP runs smoothly is mission-critical.

Without additional support, our client, a globally recognized healthcare organization, risked delays in day-to-day AP operations and month-end close processes during their Workday Financials implementation. To ensure a seamless transition, they needed experienced professionals to bridge the gap.

Solutions

Over the course of the project, Addison Group provided targeted staff augmentation to support their AP team. We placed experienced AP professionals to handle daily operations and filled a high-level leadership role to orchestrate AP workflows and oversee month-end close activities.
